Anderson rode with officers and saw the sort of behind-the-wheel behavior that helps police target drunken drivers.

"Not all are your good neighbors who happened to have too much," Anderson said. "There were some real menaces out on the road."

occur at any time, he said, even two consecutive nights or successive weekends.

All will be on Thursday, Friday or Saturday, he said, because 82 percent of all drunken driving crashes occur on those nights.

Anderson was reluctant to say how many more enforcement nights the special funding will allow.

He said the program was stalled about a month because of a delay in signing contracts.

Donald Aron

Donald Walter Aron, 50, of 406 Airport Ave., died at 2:57 p.m. Saturday, May 22, 1993, at St. Joseph's Hospital, Marshfield. Services will be at 1 p.m. Wednesday at the Moravian Church. The Rev. Brian Kent will officiate. Entombment will be in Forest Hill Cemetery.

Aron was born May 7, 1943, in the Portage County town of Carson, to Walter and Bessie Mae (Trickle) Aron. He married Marguerite "Micki" Schroeder Nov. 4, 1967, in Wisconsin Rapids. He graduated from Pittsville High School in 1961 and the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, with a degree in resource management. He served in the U.S. Army during the Vietnam War, and was employed by Wisconsin Valley Concrete, Consolidated Papers Inc. and, for the last 19 years, the Wood County Land Conservation Department.

Aron served on several committees for Golden Sands Resource Conservation and Development, and the Wind Erosion Committee, and also was chairman of the Geographic Information System Committee in 1991.

He was a member of the Moravian Church and the Wisconsin Association of Land Conservation Employees, serving as the latter's president from 1985-88. In 1990, he received an award as Outstanding Conservationist. He also was a member of the National Association of Conservation Districts as well as the Soil and Water Conservation Society.

Aron was instrumental in the formation of the National Conservation Districts Employees Association and served as its president from 1992-93.

Survivors include his wife; his mother, Dexterville; two daughters, Shelley and Christina, both of Wisconsin Rapids; and one sister Margaret (Duane) Fait, Dexterville. He was predeceased by his father. Friends may call at Taylor
