

No Admission Charge for McCoy Show

A number of favorites who showed here with "It's the McCoy" in April will return to Wisconsin Rapids next Monday evening when "It's the McCoy" will be staged at Lincoln field house here, starting at eight o'clock.

The Community club which is providing the field house for Monday's show and succeeding shows on Monday evenings has extended an invitation to the general public to attend "It's the McCoy" at no admission charge whatsoever. No bond purchases are required and admission is absolutely free.

Pfc. Mickey Sharp, who served as master of ceremonies with the show last spring will again be on the job Monday evening. Pfc. Dick Barstow, dancer extraordinaire, will make his regular appearance and people in attendance will have a chance to enjoy the antics of Pvt. Marty Ricklin.

The show will be backed up by the Majors and Minors, the dance orchestra featuring big name musicians conducted by S. Sgt. Nick Mussolini. Corporal Eugene Jacobs whose xylophone solos brought down the house last spring will be on the field house stage doing his stuff Monday night.

There are plenty of seats for all and it is hoped that a large audience will take advantage of the free showing and sit in on the entire show. A half hour of the production from 8:30 to 9 p. m. will be broadcast over all stations of the Wisconsin Network, including WFHR.

Miss Lillian Anderson, Corp. Robert Wilson Married Here

A beautiful June wedding was held at the First English Lutheran church on Thursday afternoon when Miss Lillian M. Anderson of this city was married to Corp. Robert Thomas Wilson of Neodesha, Kansas, now with the U.S. army air corps at Trux Field, Madison. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Anderson, 520 Grant street, and the groom is a son of J. R. Wilson of Neodesha.

The Rev. A. J. L. Hemming performed the ceremony which took place at 4 p. m. before a candle lighted altar banked with pink and white peonies and tall palms.

Attired in traditional white satin the bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was made in princess style with a sweetheart neckline, finger-tip sleeves, tiny buttons at the back, and a long full skirt flowing into the train. A three-quarter length veil brocaded with orange blossoms was fastened to her hair with a tiara of seed pearls in the form of orange blossoms. A colonial bouquet of white roses and swansonia completed her costume.

A cousin of the bride, Miss Marjorie Sharkey of Detroit, Mich., was maid of honor and wore an aqua sheer gown fashioned in torso style with brief sleeves and a full skirt. She wore a matching headdress of net and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and white swansonia. The two bridesmaids, Mrs. Glendale Knoll, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Vera Woodward, both of Wisconsin Rapids, wore gowns of pink jersey with fitted bodices and full net skirts over satin, matching net headdresses, and muffed bouquets of pink roses and white swansonia. All three girls wore silver earrings which the bride had given them.

The little flower girl was the bride's niece, Beverly Holstrom of this city. Her dress was of white nylon styled with fitted bodice and long full ruffled-ciered skirt. She wore a matching tiara and carried a white basket of red and pink roses.

Attendants of the groom were Sgt. Richard Anderson of Trux Field, who was best man, and Staff Sgt. Carl D. Sharkey, the bride's cousin, of Laredo, Texas. David Sharkey and Frank Hegg were ushers.

Music for the wedding was provided by Mrs. Frank Hegg who played several appropriate selections preceding the traditional "Bridal Chorus" by Wagner, and the recessional, Mendelssohn's "Wedding March". Soloist was Miss Ruth Marie Hemming, who sang "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms" (Thomas Moore) preceding the entrance of the bridal party, and "A Perfect Love" (Louise E. Stairs) while they were before the altar.

Following the ceremony a 6 o'clock dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, covers being laid for 55 guests. Roses and peonies formed the table and house bouquets. A three-tiered white wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom made a beautiful centerpiece.

Mrs. Wilson graduated from the Lincoln high school, spent two years in the U. S. army ordnance at Detroit, Mich., and has recently been employed in the plastics department of Consolidated Water Power and Paper company. The groom attended the Neodesha, Kan., high school and after graduating there attended Independence college at Independence, Kan., for two years until he entered the service.

Corp. and Mrs. Wilson left for Madison, where they will make their home temporarily.

Out of town guests for the event were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gust O. Anderson, Mrs. Eric Pearson and Mrs. Gust Peterson, all of Rockford, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. David Hedlund and daughters Evelyn and Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Engstrand, Junction City; Mr. and Mrs. David Anderson, Cranmoor; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Nelson and Oscar Nelson, Sigel; Miss Faye Eimerman, Stevens Point; Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Boger, Miss Ruth Boger, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Zurluh, Mr. and Mrs. John Holstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Boger and Carolyn, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Lassen, Oscar R. Larsen and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hegg, Port Edwards.
