TRADE IS SUSPENDED

Washington — (P) — U. S. export trade with Argentina was virtually suspended today with a blanket revocation of individual export licenses by the office of economic warfare which indicated the whole picture of such exports will be revived to make certain that shipments to the Argentine go only to "satisfactory consignees."

It took 12,000 men to build the 1671-mile-long Alcan highway.

CHURCH SPARED IN SICILY—Allied troops shown marching through Millili, Sicily, after town was captured. Although the city had been badly damaged, allies carefully avoided non-military objectives, such as St. Sebastian church, shown undamaged in background, proof of allied expert marksmanship. ## Soviet Union Likely to Dominate Large Part of Europe After War

BY DE WITT MAC KENZIE

The downfall of the first of European dictators, and the miserable collapse of his Fascist regime, strike me as likely to have a much greater effect on the morale of other axis supporters than would have been the case had Mussolini and his government gone down to defeat in unity with flag flying.

True, the allies had de creed death for Fascism. But it's one thing for an ism that's been toyed with by numerous countries to die with its boots on in battle, and quite another for it to go down with a bullet in its back while running away. Such an ignominious end is bound to trouble other axis-inclined countries where people are wondering whether their own governments are worth fighting for.

Germany Will Suffer
Germany itself will be one of these. So will Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary. Finland long has been showing signs of regret for her entanglement with Fascism and Nazism.

The Balkans have been ripening fast for the plucking these many months. Rumania with her uneasy dictatorship is in a particularly bad way, having been despised and bled white on Russian battlefields to which her soldiers have been driven under the lash by Hitler.

That brings us up to a question of the utmost importance to the United Nations and to the future of Europe. As these axis adherents fold up one after another—and they are sure to reach that point sooner or later—what forms of government are they going to select for their rehabilitation?

I think it's safe to say that they will be swayed heavily by the guidance of the allied nation under whose sphere of political-economic influence they come. That influence will be doubly strong if this allied power has made a sensational record in the world war.

Russia a Dominant Power
This column already has recorded that on my recent trip through the theaters, from England to China, I found a very general belief that the Soviet Union will be the force of circumstances dominate eastern and central Europe—perhaps virtually all Europe clear through to the English channel—after the war.

This vast, powerful, self-contained empire is the logical successor to Germany as things now stand. I didn't find anyone who believed that anything was likely to alter this.

Into this picture fits the political complexion of much of Europe. It won't be Fascist and it won't be Nazi, because the allies have agreed to exterminate these two isms. But we shall see marked changes, and the drift may easily be towards communism in many nations.

Moscow recently abolished the commissar, which was the general staff for the original Communist program of world revolution. This removed a bone of contention between Russia and her allies.

BATAAN IS LAUNCHED
Camden, N. J.—(P)—The U. S. S. Bataan, first aircraft carrier named in honor of an American campaign in the present war, was launched yesterday and was hailed by President Manuel Quezon of the Philippine Commonwealth as a symbol of the inevitable defeat of Japan.

About 12,763 local civilian defense councils have been organized throughout the nation.

LEGISLATURE TO RECONVENE

Madison, Wis.—(P)—Members of the legislature were assembling in Madison today for reconvening of the 1943 session tomorrow with several primary questions on their minds.

The first order of business calls for a decision on whether the Republican lawmakers will renew their feud with Governor Goodland over veto bills.

Other Unsettled Matters

Another matter to be settled is whether the legislature should adjourn sine die and await a call from the governor for a special session to deal with post-war problems or take a three or four month recess.

Howard William Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dunn, Babcock, is now stationed at the west's largest naval training station at Farragut, Idaho, going through his paces as a recruit in preparation to becoming a member of the fighting fleet.

Aviation Cadet James R. Fredrickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. David William Fredrickson, 1350 Elm street, has completed the second phase of his flight training at the army flying school at Gunter army air field, Montgomery, Ala., where he has logged about 70 hours in basic training ships. Cadet Frederickson will receive his advanced training in another school in the army's vast southwest aviation training center, where he will be rated a pilot in the army air forces.

That brings us up to a question of the utmost importance to the United Nations and to the future of Europe. As these axis adherents fold up one after another—and they are sure to reach that point sooner or later—what forms of government are they going to select for their rehabilitation?

I think it's safe to say that they will be swayed heavily by the guidance of the allied nation under whose sphere of political-economic influence they come. That influence will be doubly strong if this allied power has made a sensational record in the world war.

Bills Were Left Hanging
These bills were left hanging when the houses recessed until August 3.

One of the arguments advanced by some Republican leaders why the legislature should take another extended recess instead of adjourning is that the lawmakers would not be limited on the amount or nature of business they could transact when they return next fall or around the first of the year.

If they quit and allow the governor to reconvene them by special call he could restrict the business of the next session to any topics he chooses. Present cost of maintaining a skeleton legislative staff, however, would be eliminated.

German U-Boats Have Another Bad Month

(By the Associated Press)
Bearing out Winston Churchill's recent assertion that "German hopes of U-boat warfare turning the tide of war are sinking as fast as the U-boats themselves," announced western Atlantic ship sinkings last month totalled only six—the same as reported for June.

This announced toll contrasted with the record of allied and neutral merchant ship losses in the first year of the war when axis submarines were credited with sinkings an average of 10 merchantmen a week.

LIKELY TO ASK CLOSER SCRUTINY OF SPENDING

Four more Wood county men exchanged their civilian clothes for the navy blue when they reported for boot training last week at the Great Lakes, Ill., naval training station. They are Victor F. Baldwin, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Baldwin, 131 Sixteenth avenue south, city; Henry H. Polzin, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Polzin, 603 Fifth street, Neekoosa; Florian J. Bredl, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Bredl, 241 Wood avenue, Neekoosa; and Daro A. Buchanan, 17, son of G. O. Buchanan, 130 Third street, Neekoosa.

Washington—(P)—President Roosevelt's renewed request for "stiff" increases in taxes appeared likely today to be countered in Congress with bi-partisan demands for closer scrutiny of government spending.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb.) told an interviewer he believed a new financial problem ought to involve reduced government outlays as well as enactment of new taxes.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) predicted congress will have trouble in finding additional revenue sources for the "stiff" program of additional taxes, savings, or both" that Mr. Roosevelt said ought to be enacted.

John Corey, 1011 East Two Mile avenue, who left with the July quota of inductees, is taking a 13 weeks course in basic infantry training at North Camp Hood, Texas. He has two other brothers in the service in Texas; Ralph, a second lieutenant in the marines at Corpus Christi, and Dean, an aviation cadet, finishes his preflight training at San Antonio this week.

Pvt. John B. Siegler, city, has arrived at Bradley Polytechnic Institute in Peoria, Ill., to begin a course in basic engineering under the army specialized training program. He is one of 400 special selectees to be assigned to Bradley to study mathematics, physics, chemistry, history, English, and geography for three 12 week terms, equivalent to a year and one-half of college work.

Pvt. Reynolds D. Peterson was recently transferred to the armorers school at Lowry Field, Colo., to study under the army specialized training program. Pvt. Peterson's home is at 450 Third avenue south, where his wife, the former Charlotte Regan, resides.
