

France to assume full membership on the European Advisory Commission.

This is the most advanced step taken toward reconstituting France as a great power.

The invitation was extended to the French provisional government at Paris, where Prime Minister Churchill is making an Armistice Day visit today.

The action was announced today here and in London and Moscow.

Acting Secretary of State Stettin issued this statement:

At the Moscow conference a week ago the American, British and Soviet governments decided to establish in London a European Advisory Commission for the purpose of studying certain important questions and submitting joint recommendations thereon to the three governments.

Among the matters which are receiving the close attention of the commission is the question of

See—FRANCE—Page 2

COUNTY BOARD TO CONVENE TUESDAY

City Appointments to Be Made at Supervisors' Fall Session

Wisconsin Rapids — Three important committees, a highway commissioner, and three trustees of county institutions are to be appointed by the Wood County Board of Supervisors at its November session, which begins here at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday.

The term of Highway Commissioner Russell Sullivan expires this year, as do those of Guy O. Wick, Wisconsin Rapids, trustee of the County Normal School; Elefther, Auburndale, trustee of Wood County Asylum; and Frank Radtke, Nekoosa, trustee of Home for the Aged. Trustees of office are for three years.

Committees to be named are the Highway Committee, the Agricultural LADY NOV. 6.

Council approval was given after it was reported last night that no one appeared to object to the budget on Nov. 6, at which time a tax rate for this year was set at $3.40 per $100 of valuation.

A budget summary presented to the Council last night, however, shows estimated expenditures totaling $275,100. This figure, it was explained by City Clerk E. H. Olson, did not include Marshfield's share due Wood County and the State, which has not been apportioned. Payment to Wood County and the State was estimated at approximately $120,172, bringing the total estimated budget for 1945 to $395,272.

The valuation of real and personal property in Marshfield this year totals $11,691,484.

Council Gets $150,000

The Council last night also approved action taken by the Water and Light Department at its meeting Nov. 3, turning over to

See—BUDGET—Page 2

POSTHUMOUS AWARD IS SENT TO SOLDIER'S DAD

Alex Garbrecht, 801 S. Peach street, yesterday received the Purple Heart Medal posthumously awarded to his son, Pvt. Kenneth C. Garbrecht, who was killed in action in France on July 15. Pvt. Garbrecht, a native of Marshfield, graduated from the high school here and was employed at the Roddis plant before going into the Army last December. His brother, Alex Jr., is serving in the U. S. Navy.

war dead at the Arc de Triomphe on the French nation's first Armistice Day observance in five years.

The British Prime Minister arrived in Paris by plane yesterday with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden for political and economic talks with the French.

Wearing the powder blue uniform of a marshal of the Royal Air Force, Churchill laid a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier and reviewed an hour-long parade of French forces down the Champs Elysees.

Streets Lined

Small detachments of British soldiers and American Army and Navy base units also marched in the parade.

Despite the official secrecy thrown about Churchill's visit until his 12 o'clock appearance at the ceremony, the capital's main avenue was bordered by a tight jam of people. Thousands kept up an intermittent chant, "Vive Churchill, Vive De Gaulle, Vive Koenig," (Lt. Gen. Joseph Pierre Koenig, commander of French Forces of the Interior and military governor of Paris).

Scores of RAF planes wheeled overhead in the dim sunlight, and a frigid breeze whipped the tongues of the Eternal Flame as Churchill placed the wreath and signed an American Red Cross guest book.

Veterans Honored

Then the Prime Minister stood by as Gen. De Gaulle pinned decorations on a dozen soldiers and

See—CHURCHILL—Page 2

War-Ravaged Nations Pause Observe 26th Anniversary

London—(AP)—As a great, bloody conflict ended 26 years ago this morning, doctors in a military hospital in the German town of Passau studied the case of a shell-shocked German corporal and debated whether to send him to a mental institution.

They finally released the melancholy corporal as fit, and Adolf Hitler walked out into the gloomy day.

At far-flung points...

with a firm belief that only peace, freedom and prosperity lay ahead. They had never heard of Adolf Hitler.

In Washington, a young man named Franklin Delano Roosevelt, who was considered quite efficient around the Navy Department where he was under-secretary, was convalescing from pneumonia.

Goebbels Unemployed

In London, Winston Churchill had stood at the window of his room here