

Mostly sunny

Weather in Wisconsin is predicted to be fair and cooler tonight with lows in the 50s northwest and extreme north and in the 60s southeast. Tuesday should be mostly sunny.

The five-day forecast says temperatures will be 3 to 5 degrees above normal highs of 73 to 83 and the normal lows of 53 to 60 Tuesday through Saturday. Precipitation is expected to total less than a tenth of an inch in most areas.

The cranberry forecast calls for variable cloudiness and cooler tonight. Southwesterly winds will become light northerly. Lowest bog temperatures will be 36 to 40 north tonight and 40 to 45 in the south. The outlook is for partly cloudy and cooler Tuesday with bog temperatures 34 to 42 Tuesday night.

The high Sunday in Wisconsin Rapids was 90, the low 65, and the 6 a.m. temperature was 74. Saturday's high was 89 and the low 57.

Pfc. Kenneth Goodness is killed in war

Pfc. Kenneth G. Goodness, 20, of Nekoosa was killed in action in Vietnam last Thursday, Aug. 14, when his infantry unit came under mortar attack at 2:30 a.m.

His mother, Mrs. Cecil Donahue, 317 Cranmoor Rd., Nekoosa, was notified of his death Sunday by the Defense Department.

The soldier's remains are being returned to Nekoosa for funeral services and burial in about a week, the Defense Department said.

Funeral arrangements are being made by the Feldner Funeral Home. The services are to be held at Sacred Heart Catholic Church, with interment in the parish cemetery.

Pfc. Goodness entered the Army last January and had been serving in Vietnam since June 1. He was assigned to Company C, 1st Battalion, 12th Infantry, of the 4th Infantry Division.

Born in Wisconsin Rapids on Jan. 19, 1949, he was a 1968 graduate of Alexander High School in Nekoosa.

His father, Glenn Goodness, and a sister preceded him in death. He is survived by his mother and stepfather; a brother, Gary, Wisconsin Rapids; three sisters, Mrs. William Edwards and Mrs. Richard Skibba, Nekoosa, and Janet, at home, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. George Goodness, Nekoosa.

Say experience penalized

The Wisconsin Rapids Education Association's Welfare Committee today charged that the school board's salary offer for the 1969-70 school year, while it would "attract young, inexperienced teachers," would "penalize the teachers increasingly as they progress toward the maximum salaries."

"The predicted effect would be a school system with high turnover of teachers, questionable stability and poor preparation for the children of the district," according to a statement by the committee, which represents the district's 307 teachers. The committee repeated its contention that the board's offer is $240 less than the state average maximum salary for teachers with bachelors degrees and $483 less than the average maximum for those with masters degrees.

The committee, in response to a table listing salaries of Wisconsin Valley schools which was published in the Daily Tribune last Friday, issued a similar table showing the state average and the board's offer, in comparison with what had been termed the "WREA proposal" for 1969 and for all of 1970.

Howard Junkman, committee chairman, said the committee would have recommended acceptance of this proposal, which

Barnard says Blaiberg died because

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Dr. Christian N. Barnard confirmed today that Dr. Phillip Blaiberg, the world's longest-surviving heart graft patient, died because his heart team slowed down the rejection process for 563 days.

The death certificate said Blaiberg died of heart failure brought on by failure of his kid-wife, Eileen, and a 21-year-old daughter, Jill.

Mrs. Blaiberg said her husband was not in pain at the time of his death.

"But he was suffering," she leen, I am dying. I know I'm going."

"I never believed I would really die," she said. "I always rallied and never gave up, but I knew then that I was dying."
