Feeling His Oats

Just a Letter From Home

Monday, June 25, 1945 Wisconsin Rapids, Wis.

Dear Bud, YOU LUCKY fellow! No lawns to mow and no gardens to weed. Just a nice, comfy fox-hole and nothing to do except lie low. But, of course, we are only kidding. Summer finally has steamed into these parts and we sizzled at the 90-degree level a couple of days last week. Then there was something of our weekly deluge yesterday.

Say, Bud, when you get into town either on discharge or furlough—will you or one of your family tell the Tribune about it? We want to report your arrival and jot down a couple of notes for a little piece about your experiences. There has been good cooperation on this score for the most part but some of your Buddies have been here and gone before we knew about it and sometimes it looks as if we hadn't done right by 'em. I think you'll appreciate that we have little way of knowing when you come to town unless we bump into you on the street. So, stop in at the Tribune office, won't you? We know that all servicemen lean over backwards to avoid publicity but we and the readers don't consider it in that light. Your return to the ol' stomping grounds, whether permanent or only passing through, is news and how you have fared is information which your many, many friends would like to have.

President Truman continues to grow upon the country. For one who was untried and unproven, he's certainly turning out to be a Big Three leaguer. Just recently he made the very American and democratic suggestion to congress that our presidential succession law be amended to place the speaker of the house of representatives ahead of the secretary of state as White House occupant in the event of his death. He advanced this proposal just before launching upon a schedule that will take him upon thousands of air miles.

He reasons that the speaker is chosen by the people while cabinet members are appointive. Therefore, he could nominate his successor and, in his statement, he expressed his belief that in a democracy this power should rest with the chief executive. The only suggestion we might make is that in the event of the death or removal of both the president and the vice president, the office might go to the candidate who polled the next highest number of votes in the general election for he, naturally, would represent a very large segment of the people.

The special committee considering compulsory military training legislation has concluded its hearings and probably will recommend a compulsory policy to congress. We heard from a lot of military chiefs, educational leaders and heads of various organizations but we still think the G. I. would have had some very valuable and useful comment on this subject. A bill probably won't be presented before congress recesses next month so there still is time to express yourself along these lines if you are so moved.

Fishermen who can spare the time are out in full force these days. Wisconsin's lakes and streams naturally are the same as when you left them and the fish still leap to the lure. Whether on land, sea or in the air, we're willing to bet that one of the first things you'll be doing upon your return home is to dig into the tackle box, jump in the ol' family jalopy and head for the nearest fishin' hole.

With our countryside so blessed with fish and game life, you might well give some thought to its preservation and improvement. There are a lot of places in America where water is more precious than gold—or oil. Nature here has given us an abundance of all that is beautiful and necessary to wild life. It will be our mutual job to guard against its despoliation and to enhance these endowments. This means common sense regulation, stocking programs, reforestation and adherence to general conservation practices.

The woods and waters of Wisconsin are important to us as individuals not only for recreational use but economically and industrially. They give us raw materials and power. They attract out-of-state visitors who contribute considerable to commercial interests. We hope you will actively interest yourself in some phase of this picture and put your shoulder to the wheel so that the very most can be made of what has been so generously bestowed by nature.

Yours for total Victory, R. A. D.

Letter Tells Of Death of Verlyn Ebert

Mrs. June Ebert of Marshfield has received a letter describing the death of her husband, Pfc. Verlyn Ebert, in action in Germany March 26. The letter was written to the widow by one of Verlyn Ebert's buddies.

Private Ebert was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ebert of Arpin. Excerpts of the letter written to Private Ebert's widow follow:

"We were together until March 25, when we made the spearhead across the Rhine river. We were to make a dawn attack across the river on the morning of March 26. We were loaded into landing barges, 14 men to the boat. I was on boat No. 8, and he (Ebert) was on boat No. 9. We started across to make the attack at 2 a. m.

"We were about half way across, when the Germans opened up on us with everything they had. We were helpless, for we couldn't fire back at them.

"The boat he was on received a direct hit, exploded, and killed every man that was on it. He was killed right out, and his body sank. He didn't suffer one bit.

"So you see why he was reported missing until his body was found. His body was recovered from the Rhine April 21.

"He and the rest of the men were buried in a cemetery over here. I don't know just exactly where it is. He had a military burial along with the rest."

Mrs. Ebert has also received a communication from Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, informing her that her husband has been awarded the Purple Heart posthumously.

FAST DELIVERY

Dear Editor: Just a few lines to thank you for sending me the paper that I have received as long as I've been in the E.T.O. The first one reached me in England, then the beaches of France, then all the way to Belgium, Holland and then in Germany. La-ly I have been getting your Serviceman's Digest which is very nice with all the news from home and about the men in service.

The men in my outfit have been reading your paper too and they all tell me what a good paper it is and don't think I don't boast it is too!—also the radio station.

I have been in the 9th Army doing Signal work and lots of it and at times working day and night to keep up as things have been really on the go, as you know.

I have been in Germany for months and have been in some big cities such as Aachen, Hanover, Brunswick—which at times were very nice cities, but are in a sad way now due to our big bombing raids and what a job they did!

Germany is a beautiful country. It reminds me of Wisconsin in every way but their spring is about a month or so ahead of ours, I think. The people there are all nicely dressed and lots of very good looking girls but, as you know, we were not allowed to speak to any of them.

The mail from home has been getting here very good, also the Serviceman's Digest. The paper I got yesterday was dated May 23 and today is June 3, so that is very good time. I received a letter from my wife saying she has paid up the Digest and I know she will keep doing that as she knows how much I enjoy it.

I am now back in France sweating it out and hoping for a furlough home but time will tell.

Thanks again for the Serviceman's Digest.

Pfc. Arthur T. Nessa.

APPRECIATE EFFORT. Fritzster, Germany. Received several more editions of the Serviceman's Digest and I really appreciate the effort put forth by the staff of the Tribune in getting it out on time. I want to thank every one of you for it. All the fellows in my tent read the Digest also and they say it's a swell paper. It's the only way that we keep in contact with the home town, more or less. After a couple of years overseas, a fellow's home seems just a dim memory but a paper or other pieces of news from home bring it a little closer.

I've got 87 points, but things here are pretty uncertain so I don't know if I'll get to come home or not. Thanks a million again for a fine little paper.

Sgt. Thomas A. Young. PLEASED WITH DIGEST. Manila, P. I's. Dear Editor: I have been receiving the Serviceman's Digest for six months now. I've been very pleased with it and it has proved very interesting. It brings back the old home town to me, which I haven't seen since March, 1942. Since then I've been in the S. W. P. A. 38 months to date.

Pfc. Victor Meinberg. WHAT DOCTOR ORDERED? Ireland. Dear Editor: This is to express my appreciation to the people who made The Serviceman's Digest possible. I wish it could have been brought about sooner because it is just what the doctor ordered!

Since I joined the U. S. N. (Dec. 2, 1942) I have seen a lot of cities, states and countries; yet no other place can compare with the Rapids. I'm sure the rest of the fellows all agree with me on that. (Am I right, G. I.'s?)

I am a former employe of Nepeca and I hope to go back to the Port mill in the future!

Here's thanking all of you again, and I hope you have noticed the change of my address. Recent changes have delayed the Digest but nevertheless, I received them all.
