Buttermilk—A SPRING TONIC

Buttermilk is one of the finest of tonics for the stomach that man may wish to take. It contains, authorities say, a large number of "friendly bacteria" that counteract the effect of harmful bacteria in the digestive tract.

For a Spring pick-up there is nothing better than a glass of buttermilk. It's so invigorating, and there's no fat or sugar to produce heat later on.

Try drinking a pint a day for one week—you'll enjoy its fine tangy flavor—and see how much better you feel.
