

City Clerk E. H. Olson last night were authorized to sign an agreement between the City of Marshfield and the Jerry Donahue Engineering Company of Sheboygan for plans for a new sewage disposal plant.

The unanimous action taken at last night's meeting of the City Council paved the way for plans, specifications, and other documents necessary for the construction of the new plant here.

While a definite construction figure was not quoted, a tentative estimate on the cost of the new plant indicates a figure of approximately $200,000.00.

May Begin in Spring
The work for which authorization was granted last night includes a preliminary survey of intercepting sewers, investigation and study of sewage conditions and flow, and consultation with the State Board of Health and the State Industrial Commission for final approval of plans for the new structure. According to an agreement with the Sheboygan firm, the work also will include placing the plant in operation after construction work has been completed.

It was not expected that actual construction work on the new plant would get under way before spring.

Building Inspector's Report
A report of building activities in Marshfield, submitted to the council by Peter LaFahley, city building inspector, for the quarter ending Sept. 30, reveals that the total valuation of new building additions and repairs is $137,190, of which 156 permits were issued. New construction, according to the report, is valued at $57,245; additions and repairs $30,695; new business buildings, additions and repairs, $45,825; and private garages and sheds, $3,425.

Earle Leu, a member of the Water and Light Commission, was appointed by the mayor last night, with the approval of the council, for a five-year term to the commission.

The council also approved the creation of the Water and Light Commission authorizing Ed Kipp, superintendent of the Electric and Water Department, to advertise for bids for a new 60,000-pound steam generator and firing equipment. Payment of expenses and payrolls for September was also authorized by the council at last night's meeting.

LOCAL AIRMAN BELIEVED DEAD

Lt. Donald N. Fehrenbach Missing Over Europe for More Than Year

First Lt. Donald N. Fehrenbach, 25, reported missing in action over Europe since Sept. 26, 1944, is now presumed by the War Department to be dead, according to a letter received by his mother, Mrs. Lucie Fehrenbach, 410 W. Seventh street, from Maj. Gen. Edward F. Witsell, acting adjutant general of the Army.

Lt. Fehrenbach was a bombardier in a B-17 crew and was participating in a bombing mission to Bremerhaven, Germany, when the Flying Fortress received a direct hit from anti-aircraft fire over the target, setting fire to the right wing.

The War Department reported that the plane went into a spin and exploded. Two chutes were seen to emerge, and two crew members have returned to the United States.

Native of Marshfield
"I regret the necessity of this message," Gen. Witsell wrote Mrs. Fehrenbach, "but after that ending of the long search, I am certain you may get some small measure of satisfaction and hope you may find some comfort in the thought that the uncertainty with which you have surrounded the absence of your son has enhanced the honor of his service to his country and of his sacrifice."

Lt. Fehrenbach was born in Marshfield on Dec. 4, 1919, and graduated from Sacred Heart parochial school and the Marshfield High School, after which he attended Josephinum College at Worthington, Ohio, for four years. He entered the Air Corps on

Capt. Robert E. Fabian, 31, of route 4, Loyal, a recently discharged veteran of World War I, was seen driving a car on the highway this morning when he was killed in a car accident near Borelville. A short time later, a local man was injured in the same accident.

Castwright Investigator
Frank Castwright, Madison County traffic officer, who made the investigation, announced that Fabian had either taken control of the car while driving on the straight stretch of road.

The automobile skidded the ways and rolled over on the highway several times in a space of 100 feet, then flipped head over tail into a ditch about 1 1/2 feet deep and filled with water.

Both men were pronounced dead at the scene. Witsell, adjutant general of the Army, announced that the bodies of the two men had been identified and would be returned to their homes.

Paper—The House Newsprint Investigating Committee asked the State Department to explain how much newsprint will be needed by foreign countries and where it will come from.

Here's why the committee is interested: There is still a world shortage of newsprint, the paper that newspapers are printed on.

Ships—Late yesterday the House passed a bill to allow the Government to sell merchant ships built during the war. The bill sets up a price for the ships and other conditions. It was sent to the Senate.

6 NEW WALKOUTS ARE NOTED IN MILWAUKEE

(By the Associated Press)

Walkouts in two Milwaukee millworking plants and in four Jewish bakeries in Milwaukee added several hundred to the approximately 5,000 made idle there in labor disputes.

The millwork stoppages raised to 14 the number of plants affected and to 360 the number out in that industry. The employees are members of the A. F. L. Carpurported promotions are ineffective." Allied headquarters asserted, adding that its own military government is the sole authority in Korea.

The first report of a rice riot in northern Japan gave further warning today of the approach of inevitable famine and possible disorders this winter.

WARRIORS STUNNED

The newspaper Tokoku Hochi disclosed that 100 Japanese in one village of north Japan, where the current government is absent of the Japanese house and school in the prefecture police made arrests and recovered most of the rice.

Women by the thousands are writing Premier Prince Naruhiko Higashi-Kuni complaining they are having difficulty obtaining food.

Some sources saw the possibility of Higashi-Kuni resigning in the face of growing criticism of the government's failure to formulate a concrete plan to relieve food, housing, and fuel shortages.

The Japanese Government took its first step toward alleviating the nation's critical food shortage by formally requesting permission of the Allied occupation authorities to convert two former naval fuel plants to the production of fertilizer.
