Captain's Wife Writes Letter Of Condolence

Mrs. Beatrice Wood, who last Friday received notification that her husband, Lester O. Wood, 29, seaman second class, had been killed in action somewhere in the south Pacific on March 22, has received a letter of condolence from Mrs. Julia M. Stewart of St. Louis, Missouri, wife of Capt. Alan Stewart, one of the officers with Seaman Wood.

Mrs. Wood and two-year-old daughter, Nancy Beatrice, have been making their home with her parents at Coloma since Seaman Wood entered the navy. Prior to that time they had made their home here. The letter for which Mrs. Wood is most grateful is published in full:

"My husband, Capt. Alan Stewart of the marine corps asked that I write to you to send very deepest sympathy to you in the loss of your husband. My husband was one of the officers with your husband, and he was particularly anxious that I tell you all that he told me of the tragedy in the hope that it might make it easier. I know there is nothing I can do or say that can possibly help you—with Alan overseas, I can't tell you how deeply I feel for you—and I know the chaplain will write you far better than I am able. But in the hope that another wife can help, please consider that anything I can tell you, or any information at all that Al could perhaps help you with, we want you to ask, and we will do our very best.

"There is no question but what Seaman Wood was killed instantly, and could have suffered no pain or drawn out suffering. My husband took charge of the funeral, and he wants you to know that was a real indication of the man's fondness for your husband, as they fashioned a good casket. They dressed in whites and neckerchiefs (which is very rare in the south Pacific) and he was given a twenty-five rifle salute as taps were sounded, and the flag lowered to half mast.

"It was as beautiful a service as fighting men know how to give a buddy, and I know your daughter will be proud to know her daddy was buried with full military honors, having given his life so that your life and the lives of our children may be as happy as we can make them without him. I know there is no greater love and no greater trust than the future he has paid so dearly for. You have the men's promise they will not forget."

School Assembly

The members of the Spanish class under the direction of Mrs. George Becker presented the program for the high school assembly yesterday afternoon. The program consisted of several skits portraying Latin American customs and the influence of Spanish culture on North American life and thought. Elizabeth Smith and Maxine Pluke illustrated humorously how one buys a hat in Spanish. Jack Gleason enacted the role of an American tourist with limited vocabulary in a Mexican restaurant with Titus Kullms as the patient waiter. The class sang Spanish songs and four of the girls in costume presented a Spanish dance. Others participating in the program were Joan Nash, Joyce Bennett, Patsy Hinz, John Watson, Julia Bruener and Rosala Otson.

University Coeds Active In Many War Time Activities

The University of Wisconsin is at war, too! The pace at the university is not slow; indeed, it is progressing at a regular war tempo. There is great interest in the many war-time activities at the university this year. The activities are varied, and there is not a student on the campus who can not fit his qualifications to some type of job. Since the girls outnumber the civilian boys, there have been many jobs that were made especially for feminine hands and minds. One of the occupations is nurses' aide. The girls who have signed up, receive eight weeks of instruction at the nurses dormitory right on the campus, four hours each week. After this training, they are required to put in 50 hours of work at the Wisconsin General hospital. When they have finished this they receive pins and are then full-fledged nurses aides.

Another feminine contribution is the Coed Cookie canteen. The old adage "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach" is certainly proved by the Wisconsin coeds that bake all varieties of cookies for our soldier boys. The boys really like them! Though girls are not usually mechanically inclined, many of them have enrolled in the motor corps. Here they learn the mechanics of motors, taught in a way that is easy to comprehend. The Russian War Relief center draws many girls of the domestic type. Here the girls really help our allies by sewing and by packing boxes of nicely mended clothes for needy children and adults. They say that good, healthy competition doesn't hurt anyone. At the university, where the sale of war stamps is concerned, it is the friendly competition which makes this campus "tops" in contributions. Every dormitory, sorority, or privately owned house for students enters the race. The house which have contributed the most, see their name printed on the honor roll in the Daily Cardinal, the campus newspaper. It is an honor to have the name of a house or dormitory on the roll, and by the contributions that are coming in, there can be no doubt as to the incentive it gives for "bigger and better" purchases.

Rolling bandages is one of the jobs done by the professional sororities. The girls meet in the lounge at Lathrop hall, the girls gymnasium, and while they wrap the various assortment of bandages, they sing, and take turns amusing one another with skits. So you can see that the University of Wisconsin is not asleep. It knows there is a war on, and it is doing its best to bring victory sooner.

Girl Scout Corner

Day Camp Application blanks have been released to Girl Scouts who wish to go to camp. Day Camp reservations are due, with payment in full, to each auxiliary camp chairman on May 12. This does not mean that Brownies who register after this date cannot go to camp. It does mean that only a percentage of our Brownies will be able to go, as only 48 girls can be accommodated each period. The reason for setting an advance registration date is an effort to permit Brownies to choose the date most convenient to them. If for any good reason, dates must be changed after they are made, such arrangements may be made by contacting Mrs. C. F. Reiland, general chairman of Day Camp reservations. Arrangements for each school are left in the hands of the auxiliary camp chairman.

Established Camp Auxiliary camp chairmen of the Intermediate Scouts will meet girls at their troop meetings during the week of May 8-15 to accept the application blanks and $2 registration fee for Established Camp. On the last three Fridays in May, from 2 to 4 p. m. in the Girl Scout office, Mrs. H. Wilpolt, general chairman of registration, will meet her auxiliary chairmen in order to place registrations that have accumulated during the week. Chairmen are urged to meet the general chairman weekly so that registrations may be honored in the order in which they came. After the close of school, Mrs. Wilpolt will accept any registrations by appointment.

Girl Scout Exchange The Senior Service Scouts of SS. Peter and Paul, under the leadership of Mrs. A. Podawiltz, have exchanged a great many uniforms, and performed a real service. They are in the Girl Scout office each Saturday, from 10 to 12 a. m. Three Girl Scout uniforms in size 12, and one Brownie dress are now available. If any one has a uniform that can be used, call Mrs. Podawiltz. Uniforms from the National Equipment Service will be here late in May.

Badge Cards Due The program committee of the Girl Scout Council are providing the courtesy of badge certificates this year for each Girl Scout who has earned one or more of the rank or proficiency badges of the Girl Scout program. Each leader is asked to fill out the cards and return them to the Girl Scout office in order that council records of each girl's progress may be kept up to date. When the leader purchases the badges, the certificate will be returned to her in order that she may give them to the Pacific Partner by George Johnston—Here is the story of the real Australia—its colorful history, its fighting men and women, its factory workers, its political leaders and its war leaders, its achievements and its shortcomings and its battle honors. It is the story of a country which thousands of American are "discovering" for the first time, as the realization of the great and vital importance of our "Pacific partner" grows.

Social Situations

THE SITUATION: You are introducing a woman whose husband is in the service and is stationed overseas.

WRONG WAY: Say, in an effort to be light, "Mrs. Jones is a war widow."

RIGHT WAY: Say, "Mrs. Jones' husband is in the Army." (Many women, and understandably so, resent the flippant term "war widow" as applied to women who are, because of the war, separated from their husbands.)

Activities

The SS. Peter and Paul Senior Scouts had a really delightful party in the school gymnasium on Monday. All reports indicate that everyone enjoyed the social time in which everyone participated. No one failed to appreciate the wonderful lunch that was served, either.

All of the girls in the Brownie troops and Mrs. Boles' Intermediate Scouts showed their ingenuity and skill in making May baskets. These Intermediate Scouts also visited the Wisconsin Valley Creamery today, as a part of their Community Badge.

The girls in Mrs. Ticknor's troop are working for the Community Badge, too. They have gone on tours of inspection through the fall and the court house.

Last Saturday afternoon, Miss Helen Peters, camp chairman, and Mrs. E. R. Kellogg, camp director, went to Waupun to purchase handicraft material for camp from the Waupun Handicrafters.

BANK CREDIT

for the WHOLE COMMUNITY Not Just For A Chosen Few

This is wartime. No one, of course, should borrow for spending which is unnecessary. But there are times in the life of every family . . . of every business . . . when a bank loan, wisely used, is of real benefit to the borrower, to the community, to the Nation.

That is why First National Bank makes bank credit available to the whole community . . . to men and women of good character as well as to business houses. We lend not to a chosen few . . . but to many. We extend credit for scores of purposes. Our interest rates are low. On most types of loans, payments may spread over a long period of months.

In this advertisement, we list some of the loans made by First National. You are cordially invited to ask about any kind. Your application will be handled in strict bank confidence. You will get quick action . . . without red tape.

FIRST MORTGAGE LOANS

First National Bank gives quick and considerate attention to applications for first mortgage loans on improved city and farm property. Interest rates are moderate. Appraisals and decisions are prompt. A modern payment plan enables you to wipe out a mortgage loan with gradual payments spread over a period of years.

AUTOMOBILE LOANS

The car you now drive probably is excellent security for a loan. Just telephone First National Bank . . . 326 . . . give the make and model number of your car and state how much you wish to borrow. You will get a quick answer to your application. Chances are that all loan details can be arranged over the phone.

LIFE INSURANCE LOANS

First National Bank makes loans on all forms of life insurance policies except industrial policies. If you bring your policies to the bank when you apply for a loan, all details for a life insurance loan probably can be completed in a very few minutes.

AGRICULTURAL LOANS

First National Bank always welcomes the opportunity to make loans to farmers, stockmen, poultry producers and dairy men. Payment dates may be set as far as a year ahead, if you await the sale of crops or livestock financed. Applications receive quick attention from men who are thoroughly acquainted with farming and understand the financial problems of the farmer.

COLLATERAL LOANS

Good stocks and bonds may be used to secure a loan from First National Bank. Collateral loans may be obtained for large or small amounts. Payment terms vary with the size of the loan and its duration. Interest rates always are low.

BUSINESS LOANS

Of course, First National Bank makes business loans. It is our job to help finance the orderly conduct of business in the Wisconsin Rapids area and we stick to this job day in and day out. Business men are cordially invited to talk with our officers and to learn more about how First National works with its customers.

PERSONAL LOANS

First National Bank makes personal loans for scores of individual and family needs. For paying doctor bills, for example; for meeting educational expenses; for taking care of financial emergencies which occasionally confront families—no matter how carefully they plan. These loans are made at low interest rates. Payments may be spread over a period of months.

TO PATTERN SUBSCRIBERS

Because of the tremendous amount of mail being handled by the postal system these days, and the shortage of labor, we ask that you be patient if your pattern isn't delivered as promptly as in the past. The season of heavy pattern orders is now under way and will continue through Easter. There are bound to be some delays. Patterns are mailed third class and are frequently delayed because of postal congestion. Be sure to retain the number of the pattern you order. If you haven't received the pattern in a reasonable length of time, please advise us the number and size ordered and we will check your order.
