These Sheboygan People Say It Really Was Thanksgiving

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bolgert, 825 New York avenue, Sheboygan, really enjoyed a thankful Thanksgiving Thursday when they received word from their son, First Lt. Edwin F. Bolgert, that he had flown his last mission and would be home soon on a much deserved leave.

Lt. Bolgert, now in England, a P-47 Thunderbolt fighter pilot, has put in well over 60 missions over enemy Europe and has completed 270 hours of combat flying. He has received the Air Medal with five oak leaf clusters, the Service Cross and the Distinguished Flying Cross. The latter award was presented on October 28 by Brig. Gen. Woodbury at a 78th fighter group base in Eng-

He wrote his parents that recently upon his return to his base from a combat mission he was met by Gen. Spaatz, commander of the U. S, air forces in all Europe, and Gen. Doolittle, commander of the 8th air force. He stated that he had quite a talk with both men and that they proved to be wonderful persons and typical airmen whom anyone would be glad to serve under.

Lt. Bolgert flew his last mission on November 8, and he hopes to see his brother, Pfc. Walter Bolgert, who is stationed in England with the First Lt. Edwin F. Bolgert quartermaster corps, before he returns to the States.
