British Disapprove of Argentina's Neutrality Policy

Buenos Aires—(P)—A British foreign office statement expressing strong disapproval of Argentina's neutrality policy struck a sharp blow at axis propagandists here. Nazi sympathizers long have conducted a whispering campaign that Britain regarded Argentina's failure to break relations with the axis with complacency if not approval. "His majesty's government hopes that in the international sphere the Argentine government will at an early date range herself wholeheartedly on the side of the freedom loving nations," said the statement, the full text of which was published here. The note pointed out that Britain wished to continue her friendship and commerce with Argentina, but added that British leaders never understood why Argentina, alone of the western republics, failed to follow the recommendations of the Rio De Janeiro conference of foreign ministers regarding the sev-

Dnieper River Fight Marks New, Important Phase of Russian War

BY DE WITT MAC KENZIE The bloody battle of the Dnieper—750 miles of hell along the winding reaches of Europe's third biggest river—has reached its crisis in a struggle for the crossings of this expansive waterway behind which the retreating Hitlerites hope to take refuge unless the onrushing Russians gain control of the passages.

SOLDIERS THREE—Somewhere in England, this photograph was taken of three Clendenning brothers, Cpl. Orville, Pvt. Carl, and Sgt. Raymond, all of Meehan. A fourth brother, Lyle, is serving with the coast guard at Seattle, Wash. Sgt. Raymond Clendenning, shown on the right above, was recently awarded the air medal.

Food Scarcity in Calcutta Is More Serious

Calcutta, Sept. 25 —(Delayed)—(P)—The pitiful predicament of Bengal's hungry millions has worsened in Calcutta and the hinterlands where hundreds are dying from starvation and scores more each day are reaching the point where food and medical care cannot fully restore damaged minds and bodies. A large proportion of those starving in Calcutta are from rural districts where the situation is deteriorating rapidly. Persons able to move attempt to reach Calcutta where they hope for help, and many die along the roadside. Nearly 150 free kitchens have been opened in the city, mostly sponsored by private relief societies, but they are not enough to feed 100,000 destitute people in Calcutta alone. Last week Calcutta hospitals, filled to capacity, received 5,000 cases. One thousand were suffering from starvation while the remainder were diseases resulting from hunger. Cholera and typhoid cases were increasing on the outskirts of the city.

Don't Expect Reds to Lick Japs—Warning

Chicago—(P)—It is an illusion for the United States to expect the Soviet Union "will be able or willing also to undertake the burden of the military struggle against Japan," Earl Browder, general secretary of the U. S. Communist party told a second front rally last night. "All chatter about the Soviets giving us 'bombing bases' in Siberia is harmful nonsense," Browder continued, "with only one aim and end, to try to give the Soviet Union similar tasks in the far east which she has performed in Europe, namely to win the war for us."

Earlier in his speech, the Kansas-born Communist leader asserted, "the cold truth is this, that unless we get down off our high horse, unless we, the United States, consolidate the alliance with Britain and the Soviet Union on the basis of equality all around there is not the slightest prospect for us to emerge from this war with anything that can properly be called victory. The key to this victory is the full consolidation of the Anglo-Soviet-American alliance. This requires full coalition warfare at least to the extent of the Anglo-American side in the west engaging half as many of the Nazi forces as the Soviet Union takes on single-handed."

The rains have come. In the drive on the Dnieper, the red motor transports and even caterpillar-equipped machines have been sucked down in the mire until it seemed they couldn't move. Still the Moscowites have driven through it, bringing along their artillery and supplies.

300 Axis Prisoners of War in Wreck Charlottesville, Va.—(P)—Three hundred German prisoners of war, delayed at nearby Shadwell for nine hours when the train on which they were being transported wrecked and killed the fireman and engineer, were loaded into another train last night for the remainder of their trip to an inland prison camp. The train, composed of 11 cars, piled up at a point where new track was being installed. Four of the derailed cars toppled down an embankment and came to rest again on their wheels. Cause of the wreck was not announced by railroad officials.

On the whole, it looks as though in Smolensk the Russians have discovered the Achilles heel of the German line. Through the Smolensk gateway they may be able to pour disaster upon the Nazis, even if it's impossible to achieve the vital crossings of the Dnieper farther south.

Flashes of Life

(By the Associated Press) Equality Philadelphia — Women workers objected when posters in a war plant blamed all the bottlenecks on "Simple Sal." The plant cartoonist is co-starring "Witless Willie" now. Cooperation New Haven, Conn.—Corp. Larry Thomas of Phoenix, Ariz., is awakened daily by a clanking fender on a jalopy that passes beneath his window at the same hour each morning. So Corp. Thomas awakens Pvt. Clifford Langdon, one of those sleepers whom even the most alarming alarm clock won't disturb. Pvt. Langdon is official headquarters bugler for the army air forces training command technical school at Yale. Busy Los Angeles—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clyde Avery, each 78, didn't want to bother with celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary. But fellow workers arranged impromptu observances during the couple's 10-minute rest periods at the aircraft plant. Button, Button Kansas City—It was no weather note when police warned women to keep their topcoats buttoned. A 20-year-old telephone company employe told officers someone seized the tail of her topcoat and threw it over her head. Disentangled, she discovered her purse had been snatched. The $65 Question Salt Lake City—Clyde Lindsay, awakened by an intruder in his room, asked "What do you want?" "I'm looking for Mary," the fleeing visitor answered. Missing from Lindsay's trousers was $65. 30-Ton Loser The Dalles, Ore.—S. L. Strong told the sheriff's office a bull charged head-on into his 30-ton truck-trailer. Damage to the truck: $250. Damage to the bull: only the indignity of picking itself out of the ditch. OUR MEN IN SERVICE In awarding the Air Medal to Sgt. Raymond A. Clendenning, Meehan, the following citation was issued: "... For exceptionally meritorious achievement while participating in five separate bomber combat missions over enemy occupied continental Europe. The courage, coolness, and skill displayed by these enlisted men upon these occasions reflect great credit upon themselves and the armed forces of the United States." A picture of Sgt. Clendenning and two brothers appears in today's Tribune. Sgt. Clendenning got his wings at Wichita Falls, Texas. He went into combat service, and was wounded in action in Africa. He was sent to England for hospitalization, and has since been stationed there with the technical supply department. John William Dahlke, son of Mrs. Edith Dahlke, city, enlisted recently in the marine corps and is now at home, assigned to inactive duty. Pvt. Dahlke expects shortly to receive his orders to report to the marine base at San Diego, Cal., for his basic training. Robert Albert Lobner, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lobner, Route 2, Milladore, is now undergoing "boot" training at the naval training station, Great Lakes, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Ristow Jr. received a cable Friday from their son, Corp. Rudolph Ristow Jr., who has arrived safely at his overseas destination. He left here with the January quota and was last stationed at Camp Lee, Va. Pfc. Phillip Davis has been transferred from the army to the air corps and sent from Camp Pickett, Va., to Miami Beach, Fla., where he is now training with the aviation cadets.

BY JAMES MARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE Washington —(P)— If you're looking for workers maybe this story of the Pacific coast manhunt may give you some ideas because there they have felt all the squeezes any part of the country will know. The Boeing Flying Fortress plant at Seattle is paying employes for "tips" on prospective workers who are subsequently hired. The aircraft company first tried the method at its Renton plant, near Seattle, and says it worked. Not only the plant but the whole area needed workers and the "tip" idea was not enough for all that. Became Community Problem Because the army threatened cancellation of many small contracts in the Seattle territory to relieve the manpower squeeze there, the Boeing problem became one for the whole community. The Seattle Chamber of Commerce organized a "flying fortress committee" whose members were a cross-section of business, labor and government agencies. Setting up a community-wide drive for workers in cooperation with the Boeing efforts, the committee is about to start a door-to-door canvass to get women workers. The industrial services division of the War Department is producing a special army show expected to draw 90,000 people in two public showings at the University of Washington stadium Oct. 3 in behalf of Boeing manpower needs. The war manpower commission granted the aircraft company limited out-of-state recruiting privileges and Boeing now has 15 field recruiting teams in mid-west states between the Mississippi and the Rockies and a part of the gulf coast region. Make Local Campaign, Too Meanwhile the company is campaigning locally in Seattle for workers through newspaper display advertising, a weekly radio program, outdoor posters, printed matter, a special motion picture, window display, speakers at luncheon clubs and special events. Because the fortress program continually is being stepped up, the Boeing Seattle and Renton plants will need approximately 9,000 workers.

Looking for Help? Out In Seattle Manpower Search Is Real Crusade

Detail parts made in the main plant will be hauled to the branch plants, assembled there into sub-assemblies, and hauled back to the main plant for final assembly. Those branch plants are expected to find at least 3,800 of the needed 9,000 additional employes. The satellite plants were established where the U. S. employment service indicated sufficient manpower would be available. Pierre Dorion, who settled on the James river in 1775, was the first white resident of South Dakota.
