

Stocks Surged To New Highs In Record Volume This Week

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market this week surged to new highs for 1967 and did it in record volume.

Turnover climbed to 60,769,050 shares from 53,953,230 the week before and topped the previous weekly record of 58.2 million in the week ended July 22.

For the week, the Dow industrials rose 22.24 points to 923.77.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks this week rose 3.2 points to 341.6.

The AP average also made a series of highs for the year, its latest being 342.3 on Wednesday.

On a couple of occasions, the market had tried but failed to top the previous 1967 high in the Dow industrials, 909.63, made on May 8.

On Monday the market topped it in mid session, but failed to carry through to the close.

Renewed buying power came into the market Tuesday and the May 8 level was cleared on heavy volume.

On Wednesday the stock market celebrated the bull market with another rise to a new 1967 high.

The market had its acid test Thursday when it plunged early in the day on news that President Johnson had requested enactment of a 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes of individuals and corporations. At the worst, the Dow industrials were down 9.3 points, but they recovered strongly to show a low of only .29.

Of 1,608 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 921 rose and 469 fell.

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were:

Atlas Corp., up $\frac{1}{2}$ at 67 $\frac{1}{2}$ on 1,043,800 shares; Allis-Chalmers up $\frac{1}{4}$ at 30; Sperry Rand, up $\frac{1}{2}$ at 39 $\frac{1}{2}$; American Motors, up $\frac{1}{4}$ at 14 $\frac{1}{2}$; and Hupp Corp., up $\frac{1}{2}$ at 6 $\frac{1}{2}$.

The five most active issues this week on the American Stock Exchange were:

Nuclear Corp. of America, up $\frac{1}{4}$ at 4 on 773,900 shares; Sperry Rand warrants, up $\frac{1}{4}$ at 14 $\frac{1}{2}$; Atlas Corp. warrants, up $\frac{1}{4}$ at 3 $\frac{1}{2}$; New Park Mining, up $\frac{1}{4}$ at 8 $\frac{1}{2}$; and Stanrock Uranium, up 1-16 at 5 $\frac{1}{2}$.

FROM PAGE 1...

Vietnam

two hit the base. The others landed in the Long Tao river bordering the base, from which Navy patrol boats conduct operations against the Viet Cong in the delta.

The Navy said there were no casualties and only light damage to the facilities. In a heavy mortar and recoilless rifle shelling of the base and a nearby petroleum tank farm Thursday, 27 Americans and six Vietnamese were wounded and 1,000 55-gallon drums of fuel went up in flames.

A U.S. Marine security platoon guarding a bridge south of Da Nang came under heavy Communist attack early today. Two Marines were killed and 14 wounded.

Striking in darkness with small arms, automatic weapons, grenades and mortars, the Communists penetrated the Marine perimeter in two places. Two Marine bunkers were destroyed by what were believed to be 40mm rockets. Communist casualties were not known.

Troops of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division reported destroying a Viet Cong grenade factory 24 miles northwest of Saigon. The Americans found a large underground room containing eight 55-gallon drums containing tools, castings, explosives and other grenade parts.

U.S. B52 bombers flew four missions over South Vietnam Friday, striking three times in the A Shau Valley, near the Laotian border 400 miles north of Saigon.

The command confirmed that American artillery accidentally shot down an ammunition-carrying C7 Caribou transport Thursday as it approached a Special Forces camp west of Quang Ngai City. The plane's three crewmen were killed.

The eight-engine B52 bombers flew four missions over South Vietnam Friday, striking three times in the A Shau Valley, near the Laotian border 400 miles north of Saigon.

Bombed Daily

A Shau, site of a former U.S. Special Force—Green Beret—outpost, is the first of many enemy concentration points in South Vietnam on the Ho Chi Minh trail. Intelligence sources report that flat-bed semitrailers capable of hauling tons of weapons have been spotted in the valley recently.

The area has come under almost daily bombing since the North Vietnamese overran the Special Forces camp early last year. The raids Friday were aimed at enemy base camps, storage areas and fortification.

The B52s also flew one mission against a training center and tunnel complex in Long Khanh Province, 50 miles north-east of Saigon.

In air raids against North Vietnam, F105 Thunderchiefs based in Thailand attacked a rail yard 30 miles north of Hanoi Friday and pilots reported damaging 20 railroad cars and destroying 300 feet of track.

Phantom jet pilots reported silencing 17 anti-aircraft batteries around Kep airfield northeast of Hanoi, while Thunderchiefs struck at railroad yards nearby.

Navy pilots from the carriers Oriskany and Constellation said they destroyed or damaged 21 trucks, 21 boats and seven bridges.

A U.S. spokesman announced that four U.S. combat plane losses over the North not previously disclosed brought the total of such losses for the war to 635. American aircraft losses from all causes in the war on both sides of the border mounted to 2,511—1,549 planes and 962 helicopters.

Florsheim Named Chairman Of J-J Dinner Sept. 24

Thomas W. Florsheim, president and chief executive officer of Weyenberg Shoe Manufacturing Co. of Milwaukee, was named today as chairman of the Democratic Party's annual Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner.

The dinner will be held Sept. 24 at the Pfister Hotel in Milwaukee with Senator Edward M. ("Ted") Kennedy as the principal speaker. The appointment was made by Richard D. Cudahy, Democratic State Chairman.

Mr. Florsheim, 36, has been president of Weyenberg since 1964. Weyenberg has plants in Milwaukee, Beaver Dam and Portage and is contemplating merger with the Nunn-Bush Shoe Company with plants in Milwaukee and Edgerton.

Obituaries

PATRICK LAMB
Patrick Lamb, 84, of 1619 N. 27th St., died at his home Friday noon.

He was born March 8, 1883, in the Town of Holland, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lamb. In 1912, he married Miss Florence O'Connor. She died three years later.

On Nov. 22, 1916, he married Miss Louise Bell, at St. John the Baptist Catholic Church, Plymouth. The couple celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 1966.

The couple farmed in Sheboygan County for many years, and at one time operated a grocery store at 20th and Superior. After Mr. Lamb retired in 1952, they moved to Texas. They returned here three years ago.

Survivors are his wife; two sons, Giles and Orton, both of Texas; four daughters, Mrs. Beatrice Herber in Texas, Mrs. Fred (Marie) Fetterer, Sheboygan, Mrs. Arno (Marjorie) Yurk in Connecticut, and Mrs. Joseph (Patricia) Lang, Sheboygan; 15 grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

A requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. Tuesday at St. Dominic's Catholic Church, following brief family rites at the Gerend Funeral Home at 9:30 a.m. The Rev. Cyril Volz, pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 4 p.m. Monday. The parish and Holy Name Society vigil will be held at 7:30 p.m.

FROM PAGE 1...

ERWIN F. RAMTHUN

Erwin F. Ramthun, 69, of Kewaskum, a retired farmer, died Friday at St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend.

He was born March 29, 1898, in the Town of Kewaskum, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. August Ramthun, and was married July 21, 1945, to Frieda Schmidt Otto.

Mr. Ramthun was a member of St. Lucas Lutheran Church, Kewaskum.

Surviving are his wife; a step-son, Harvey Otto, Kewaskum; two step-daughters, Mrs. Harold (Sherry) Stern and Mrs. Robert (Betty) Marialke, both of R. 1, Kewaskum; five grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Irene Klug, Kewaskum, and a brother, Herbert, at Wood Hospital.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at St. Lucas Church with the Rev. Paul Honencke, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Lutheran Memorial Park, Kewaskum.

Friends may call at Miller Funeral Home, Kewaskum, from 2 p.m. Sunday to 11 a.m. Monday and then at the church.

HARVEY HAMMERSCHMIDT

Harvey Hammerschmidt, 65, Milwaukee, a former Sheboygan resident, died Friday afternoon at his home.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Faith Lutheran Church, 27th St., and Memorial Drive, Milwaukee.

Friends may call after 4 p.m. Monday at the Borgwardt Funeral Home, 1817 W. National Ave., Milwaukee. The body will also lie in state at the church from 10 a.m. Tuesday until the time of services.

The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hammerschmidt, Mr. Hammerschmidt moved to Milwaukee from Sheboygan about 25 years ago. He retired only three weeks ago.

Surviving are his wife, the former Malitta Winter, who had lived in Sheboygan Falls; three children; a sister, Mrs. William Scott, Sheboygan, and other relatives, many of them from the Sheboygan area.

CARL JACK STANGE

Carl Jack Stange, 56, of the Town of Scott, died Friday night at his home of an apparent heart attack.

Born Nov. 2, 1910, in the Town of Scott, he was a son of the late Frank and Ida Stange.

He married Irene Backhaus on Sept. 7, 1935, at St. Lucas Church in Kewaskum. She died July 9, 1950. He married Clara Abel Domann on Oct. 29, 1960.

Mr. Stange was a member of the Immanuel Lutheran Church of the Town of Scott.

Surviving are his wife, Clara; three sons, Robert of Beechwood, Richard of Random Lake, and Ralph at home; a stepson, Frederick Domann of Fredonia; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Henry (Marion) Schacht, Town Scott, and Mrs. Kenneth (Ruth) McKenna, Random Lake; three brothers, Elmer, Town Scott, and Oscar, Milwaukee; a sister, Miss Edna Stange, Beechwood, and 11 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Immanuel Lutheran Church in the Town of Scott. Burial will be in the church cemetery. The Rev. Donald Burgdorf will officiate.

Friends may call at the Leifer and Yoho Funeral Home in Batavia from 3 p.m. Monday until 11 a.m. Tuesday and at the church from 11 a.m. Tuesday until time of service.

MRS. ANNA POLLARD

Mrs. Anna Pollard, 84, formerly of Waldo, died Friday at the Kenosha Memorial Hospital following a lingering illness. She had resided in Kenosha the past eight years.

Born in Arcadia, Wis., Sept. 20, 1882, she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Feldscher. Her parents died while she was a child. She was later adopted by the late Mr. and Mrs. Whitman A. Barber, of Waldo.

She married Lyle Pollard of Waldo. The couple owned and operated a farm in Sheboygan County until retiring in 1943 when they moved to Waldo.

Mrs. Pollard was a correspondent for The Sheboygan Press for many years. She was a member of the Waldo Methodist Church.

Mr. Pollard died Dec. 24, 1959. The couple had celebrated a 50th wedding anniversary only a few years before Mr. Pollard's death.

At that time Mrs. Pollard moved to Kenosha to live with her son, George Pollard.

Besides her son, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. M. J. McCarthy, Fontana, Wis., and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Monday at the Waldo Methodist Church with the Rev. David Storz, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Sheboygan Falls, officiating. Burial will be in Lyndon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Wittkopp Funeral Home from 3 to 9 p.m. Sunday, until 11 a.m. Monday and at the church from noon until time of services.

Racial

controlled. A total of 15 to 20 arrests were reported.

Earlier city commissioners agreed to see three representatives of the Negro community next week and hear their grievances.

Two police officers were injured by flying debris. Police said fires were set at two businesses and in a car, but all were quickly extinguished.

At Elgin, Ill., authorities clamped a 10 p.m. curfew after a half-dozen fires broke out Friday night. Officials said five were caused by gasoline bombs. Three Negroes were arrested and charged with arson.

The disturbance was the second within a week in Elgin, 30 miles west of Chicago.

3 Years In Jail

Terry took his action in Wilmington under broad new powers granted him by the General Assembly. He did not however exercise his new authority to clamp stringent restrictions on the city.

His declaration means that anyone convicted of maliciously destroying property in the city during the emergency will be sentenced to a minimum of three years in jail. Wilmington was the scene of violence last weekend.

In Nashville, Tenn., Fred H. Brooks, the Black Power advocate who claims to be head of a "Liberation School," said it would continue operating whether or not it gets federal funds.

Police Capt. John A. Sorace told the Senate Judiciary Committee in Washington Thursday the school teaches "pure, undiluted hatred of the white race."

The Rev. J. Paschall Davis, appearing before the committee Friday, denied the Nashville anti-poverty agency he heads has channeled funds from the Office of Economic Opportunity to the school.

He said that funds have been allocated for the school program, and that a contract has been signed—but if it teaches race hatred no money will go to it.

FROM PAGE 1...

Indonesians

immediately set fire to a small house near the gate, apparently an office. As they got a blaze going at a second building, Indonesian troops began arriving.

The youths, with soldiers milling around them, then surged against the main building, smashing windows and damaging doors. But the Chinese apparently had been expecting such an attack, military officers said, for they had fortified the doors too strongly for the youths to break in.

The Indonesian government warned the Chinese it would tear down the embassy walls if they were not lowered from 10 feet to 5 feet.

Stoned Last Year

The embassy was stoned in April last year and again this April by youths. The Red Chinese are widely accused of having been involved in the abortive Communist coup attempt of 1965.

The reaction to the coup attempt led to the overthrow of the Communist party and President Sukarno's government, and the massacre of hundreds of thousands of Communists and their sympathizers.

Two months ago Indonesia expelled the Chinese charge d'affaires, Yao Teng-shan, and Consul General Hu Yen. They were accused of subversive activities.

China has issued periodic protests against the anti-Chinese demonstrations, and counter demonstrations have been held in front of the Indonesian Embassy in Peking.

Earlier this week hundreds of Indonesian students, armed with rocks, iron rods and paint, attacked Chinese shops and homes in the village of Krawang on Jakarta's outskirts.

They sought vengeance for the killing of an Indonesian servant. Her employer, T'jui San Noei, a Chinese merchant, was arrested, and troops promised the students that the slayer would be punished.

FROM PAGE 1...

Envoys

Australia, New Zealand and South Korea.

Taylor is the former U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam and Clifford, a Washington lawyer, has been an adviser to Johnson and other Democratic presidents.

While little concrete information has been given out concerning the Clifford-Taylor mission, Johnson apparently sent his senior confidants to talk with the leaders of the nations with troops in South Vietnam to:

—Check on the progress of the military and political-economic campaigns in South Vietnam.

—Give the allied chiefs Johnson's latest views on the Vietnam effort.

—Receive the views of the allied leaders and relay them to Johnson.

—Survey prospects for the next Vietnam summit parley. The last such summit gathering was at Manila last October. The next one is expected in Seoul or Bangkok this fall.

Washington sources said the outlook for peace negotiations with North Vietnam was also within the wide scope of the discussions by Clifford and Taylor in the allied capitals. But they said there was no talk of a dramatic new peace offensive.

The White House emissaries also spoke to the allies about dispatching more forces to South Vietnam.

The South Koreans indicated they would add 17,000 reservists to the 46,000-man Korean contingent in South Vietnam, while Johnson upped the planned U.S. force level in Vietnam by 45,000 to 50,000 men.

Elsewhere Clifford and Taylor apparently encountered reluctance toward any sizable increase in military contributions now.

Pentagon spokesmen revealed Friday the administration will dip into the nation's strategic reserve—troops units normally kept on duty inside the United States—to meet the newly authorized 525,000-man strength level for Vietnam by next summer.

Sources said the bulk of the 45,000 to 50,000-troop buildup will come from such units, and discounted reports draft calls would be escalated because of the President's call for additional forces.

They emphasized there is no plan at present to call up National Guardsmen or Reservists.

Researchers have been feeding laboratory rats irradiated ergosterol, a Vitamin D compound that speeds up the aging process.

FROM PAGE 1...

Congress

with St. Anselms Episcopal Chapel, where the school operates.

Records in Nashville indicated that a "Liberation School" payroll, with Brooks listed as director, was to have been financed by the poverty agency Aug. 28.

It was at St. Anselms, the Rev. Mr. Davis said, that Brooks took possession of the white station wagon leased by the poverty agency. But he likened the transaction to a janitor receiving a package delivered to an apartment house.

Eastland disagreed. "He's driving the station wagon and he's director of the school and you have contractual relations with him," the Mississippi senator said.

The Rev. Mr. Davis said the "Liberation School" project was approved on July 18 by the OEO regional office in Atlanta, and an initiation contract signed with the Rev. James Woodruff of St. Anselms on July 24.

But he insisted again no money has been paid out because investigation and clearances through a labyrinth of local administrative agencies has not been completed.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said the Rev. Mr. Davis had refuted Sorace's testimony. "I'm just hopeful that truth can catch up with what is falsehood," Kennedy said.

"I disagree," said Eastland. "I think this testimony supports him."

Supports Mr. Sorace?" Kennedy asked.

"That's correct," Eastland said.

The school, for children aged 6 to 12, was described in its application for poverty funds as a summer program to teach Negro children about the history of their people.

Brooks said Thursday it is "not our responsibility" if Negro children grow to hate whites through exposure to history, including that dealing with enslavement of Negroes. But on Friday, the 20-year-old Negro militant said the school teaches neither hate nor violence.

FROM PAGE 1...

Local Marine Gravely Hurt In Vietnam

A Sheboygan Marine, wounded in action in Vietnam on Wednesday, is reportedly in critical condition at a Da Nang hospital.

Sgt. Arleigh Felch, 23, a veteran of 17 months in Vietnam suffered a gunshot wound to the head during hostile action near Da Nang, according to a telegram received Friday night by his wife, Mrs. Nancy Jean Felch, 1802 N. 9th St.

The Defense Department wire said he was hit by rifle fire.

Felch had extended his one year's duty in Vietnam in February, and was to be transferred back to the states in early September.

He joined the Marine Corps two and a half years ago, according to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Felch, 612 Pennsylvania Ave.

Felch's 19-year-old wife, who gave birth six weeks ago to the couple's only child—a son—was taken to St. Nicholas Hospital by police ambulance Friday night after collapsing at the home of her husband's parents after advising them of the news.

She was under treatment today for emotional strain and shock.

FROM PAGE 1...

Local Marine Gravely Hurt In Vietnam

A Sheboygan Marine, wounded in action in Vietnam on Wednesday, is reportedly in critical condition at a Da Nang hospital.

Sgt. Arleigh Felch, 23, a veteran of 17 months in Vietnam suffered a gunshot wound to the head during hostile action near Da Nang, according to a telegram received Friday night by his wife, Mrs. Nancy Jean Felch, 1802 N. 9th St.

The Defense Department wire said he was hit by rifle fire.

Felch had extended his one year's duty in Vietnam in February, and was to be transferred back to the states in early September.

He joined the Marine Corps two and a half years ago, according to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Felch, 612 Pennsylvania Ave.

Felch's 19-year-old wife, who gave birth six weeks ago to the couple's only child—a son—was taken to St. Nicholas Hospital by police ambulance Friday night after collapsing at the home of her husband's parents after advising them of the news.

She was under treatment today for emotional strain and shock.

FROM PAGE 1...

Local Marine Gravely Hurt In Vietnam

A Sheboygan Marine, wounded in action in Vietnam on Wednesday, is reportedly in critical condition at a Da Nang hospital.

Sgt. Arleigh Felch, 23, a veteran of 17 months in Vietnam suffered a gunshot wound to the head during hostile action near Da Nang, according to a telegram received Friday night by his wife, Mrs. Nancy Jean Felch, 1802 N. 9th St.

The Defense Department wire said he was hit by rifle fire.

Felch had extended his one year's duty in Vietnam in February, and was to be transferred back to the states in early September.

He joined the Marine Corps two and a half years ago, according to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Felch, 612 Pennsylvania Ave.

Felch's 19-year-old wife, who gave birth six weeks ago to the couple's only child—a son—was taken to St. Nicholas Hospital by police ambulance Friday night after collapsing at the home of her husband's parents after advising them of the news.

She was under treatment today for emotional strain and shock.

FROM PAGE 1...

Local Marine Gravely Hurt In Vietnam

A Sheboygan Marine, wounded in action in Vietnam on Wednesday, is reportedly in critical condition at a Da Nang hospital.

Sgt. Arleigh Felch, 23, a veteran of 17 months in Vietnam suffered a gunshot wound to the head during hostile action near Da Nang, according to a telegram received Friday night by his wife, Mrs. Nancy Jean Felch, 1802 N. 9th St.

The Defense Department wire said he was hit by rifle fire.

Felch had extended his one year's duty in Vietnam in February, and was to be transferred back to the states in early September.

He joined the Marine Corps two and a half years ago, according to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Felch, 612 Pennsylvania Ave.

Felch's 19-year-old wife, who gave birth six weeks ago to the couple's only child—a son—was taken to St. Nicholas Hospital by police ambulance Friday night after collapsing at the home of her husband's parents after advising them of the news.

She was under treatment today for emotional strain and shock.

FROM PAGE 1...

Local Marine Gravely Hurt In Vietnam

A Sheboygan Marine, wounded in action in Vietnam on Wednesday, is reportedly in critical condition at a Da Nang hospital.

Sgt. Arleigh Felch, 23, a veteran of 17 months in Vietnam suffered a gunshot wound to the head during hostile action near Da Nang, according to a telegram received Friday night by his wife, Mrs. Nancy Jean Felch, 1802 N. 9th St.

The Defense Department wire said he was hit by rifle fire.

Felch had extended his one year's duty in Vietnam in February, and was to be transferred back to the states in early September.

He joined the Marine Corps two and a half years ago, according to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Felch, 612 Pennsylvania Ave.

Felch's 19-year-old wife, who gave birth six weeks ago to the couple's only child—a son—was taken to St. Nicholas Hospital by police ambulance Friday night after collapsing at the home of her husband's parents after advising them of the news.

She was under treatment today for emotional strain and shock.

FROM PAGE 1...

Local Marine Gravely Hurt In Vietnam

A Sheboygan Marine, wounded in action in Vietnam on Wednesday, is reportedly in critical condition at a Da Nang hospital.

Sgt. Arleigh Felch, 23, a veteran of 17 months in Vietnam suffered a gunshot wound to the head during hostile action near Da Nang, according to a telegram received Friday night by his wife, Mrs. Nancy Jean Felch, 1802 N. 9th St.

The Defense Department wire said he was hit by rifle fire.

Felch had extended his one year's duty in Vietnam in February, and was to be transferred back to the states in early September.

He joined the Marine Corps two and a half years ago, according to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Felch, 612 Pennsylvania Ave.

Felch's 19-year-old wife, who gave birth six weeks ago to the couple's only child—a son—was taken to St. Nicholas Hospital by police ambulance Friday night after collapsing at the home of her husband's parents after advising them of the news.

She was under treatment today for emotional strain and shock.

Milwaukee

as he and other youths fled from a firebomb scene.

The death of McKissick, a youth group worker, increased demands for inner core spokesmen for a meeting with the mayor whom they accused of ignoring a meeting with them Wednesday while meeting instead Thursday with white business leaders.

Maier met privately Friday with about 60 small business operators from Negro neighborhoods. His office said the group voted 44-3 in favor of formation of an inter-racial committee, which has been proposed by an association of clergymen to study slum problems.

"This is one of the healthiest meetings I have ever attended," the mayor said. There was "no demagoguery," but much "honest, open, democratic debate."

John Jackson, member of a social relations committee, walked out of the meeting saying Maier "offered" nothing germane.

"He calls a group of core businessmen, and he talks about

FROM PAGE 1...

Indonesians

At the command post, policemen on standby ate food provided by the Salvation Army and watched the game on a portable television set.

16 Meals!

"A man's supposed to eat three square meals a day," said one officer, "and I've been eating about 16."

A patrolman stationed at a tavern said he was not fearful of trouble with the bar's customers after the curfew was reimposed.

"I'm not even worried about the ones that might be drunk when it's time to go home. Drunks are easy to take care of," he said.

"I'm worried about the ones that have been somewhere else all night," he said. "You never know when they're going to start shooting at you from rooftops."

Firemen, who have been armed with rocks, bottles and even bullets while answering fire alarms lately, are not used to the violence and were less jovial than the police.

Lt. Robert Mazaroli said he is afraid when he and his men are sent into the riot area. "But I'm not shaky scared," he said.

Mazaroli, a 20-year veteran, said the most "petrifying incident of my life" was last Sunday when the disturbances broke out. He said his unit responded to a fire call and was clobbered "by a barrage of stones and rocks."

Another fireman, however, termed the outbursts "small potatoes."

He is Lawrence M. Galezewski, 43, who said he wasn't afraid because he had often been shot at while serving in World War II.

The snipers and rock throwers are only "spewing forth their vengeance because society hasn't handed them everything on a silver platter," Galezewski said.

FROM PAGE 1...

Indonesians

engineering at MIT, Cambridge.

—Dr. John A. Lewellyn, 34, born Cardiff, Wales, United Kingdom. Presently an associate professor of chemistry at Florida State University in Tallahassee.

—Dr. Franklin S. Musgrave, 31, born Boston, Mass. Presently a physician studying as a post-doctoral fellow at the University of Kentucky in Lexington; with a medical degree from Columbia University and a Ph.D. in physiology from the University of Kentucky.

—Dr. Brian T. O'Leary, 27, born Boston, Mass. Presently studying in a NASA training program at the space sciences laboratory in the University of California's department of astronomy at Berkeley, Calif.

—Dr. Robert A. Parker, 30, born New York City. Presently professor of astronomy at the University of Wisconsin Madison on campus.

—Dr. William E. Thornton, 38, born Goldsboro, N.C. Presently a consultant to Delmar Engineering Co., in Los Angeles. Until June he was an Air Force flight surgeon at Brooks Air Force Base in San Antonio, Tex.

FROM PAGE 1...

Indonesians

At the command post, policemen on standby ate food provided by the Salvation Army and watched the game on a portable television set.

16 Meals!

"A man's supposed to eat three square meals a day," said one officer, "and I've been eating about 16."

A patrolman stationed at a tavern said he was not fearful of trouble with the bar's customers after the curfew was reimposed.

"I'm not even worried about the ones that might be drunk when it's time to go home. Drunks are easy to take care of," he said.

"I'm worried about the ones that have been somewhere else all night," he said. "You never know when they're going to start shooting at you from rooftops."

Firemen, who have been armed with rocks, bottles and even bullets while answering fire alarms lately, are not used to the violence and were less jovial than the police.

Lt. Robert Mazaroli said he is afraid when he and his men are sent into the riot area. "But I'm not shaky scared," he said.

Mazaroli, a 20-year veteran, said the most "petrifying incident of my life" was last Sunday when the disturbances broke out. He said his unit responded to a fire call and was clobbered "by a barrage of stones and rocks."

Another fireman, however, termed the outbursts "small potatoes."

He is Lawrence M. Galezewski, 43, who said he wasn't afraid because he had often been shot at while serving in World War II.

The snipers and rock throwers are only "spewing forth their vengeance because society hasn't handed them everything on a silver platter," Galezewski said.

FROM PAGE 1...

Indonesians

engineering at MIT, Cambridge.

—Dr. John A. Lewellyn, 34, born Cardiff, Wales, United Kingdom. Presently an associate professor of chemistry at Florida State University in Tallahassee.

—Dr. Franklin S. Musgrave, 31, born Boston, Mass. Presently a physician studying as a post-doctoral fellow at the University of Kentucky in Lexington; with a medical degree from Columbia University and a Ph.D. in physiology from the University of Kentucky.

—Dr. Brian T. O'Leary, 27, born Boston, Mass. Presently studying in a NASA training program at the space sciences laboratory in the University of California's department of astronomy at Berkeley, Calif.

—Dr. Robert A. Parker, 30, born New York City. Presently professor of astronomy at the University of Wisconsin Madison on campus.

—Dr. William E. Thornton, 38, born Goldsboro, N.C. Presently a consultant to Delmar Engineering Co., in Los Angeles. Until June he was an Air Force flight surgeon at Brooks Air Force Base in San Antonio, Tex.

FROM PAGE 1...

Indonesians

engineering at MIT, Cambridge.

—Dr. John A. Lewellyn, 34, born Cardiff, Wales, United Kingdom. Presently an associate professor of chemistry at Florida State University in Tallahassee.

—Dr. Franklin S. Musgrave, 31, born Boston, Mass. Presently a physician studying as a post-doctoral fellow at the University of Kentucky in Lexington; with a medical degree from Columbia University and a Ph.D. in physiology from the University of Kentucky.

—Dr. Brian T. O'Leary, 27, born Boston, Mass. Presently studying in a NASA training program at the space sciences laboratory in the University of California's department of astronomy at Berkeley, Calif.

—Dr. Robert A. Parker, 30, born New York City. Presently professor of astronomy at the University of Wisconsin Madison on campus.

—Dr. William E. Thornton, 38, born Goldsboro, N.C. Presently a consultant to Delmar Engineering Co., in Los Angeles. Until June he was an Air Force flight surgeon at Brooks Air Force Base in San Antonio, Tex.

FROM PAGE 1...

Indonesians

engineering at MIT, Cambridge.

—Dr. John A. Lewellyn, 34, born Cardiff, Wales, United Kingdom. Presently an associate professor of chemistry at Florida State University in Tallahassee.

—Dr. Franklin S. Musgrave, 31, born Boston, Mass. Presently a physician studying as a post-doctoral fellow at the University of Kentucky in Lexington; with a medical degree from Columbia University and a Ph.D. in physiology from the University of Kentucky.

—Dr. Brian T. O'Leary, 27, born Boston, Mass. Presently studying in a NASA training program at the space sciences laboratory in the University of California's department of astronomy at Berkeley, Calif.

—Dr. Robert A. Parker, 30, born New York City. Presently professor of astronomy at the University of Wisconsin Madison on campus.

—Dr. William E. Thornton, 38, born Goldsboro, N.C. Presently a consultant to Delmar Engineering Co., in Los Angeles. Until June he was an Air Force flight surgeon at Brooks Air Force Base in San Antonio, Tex.

FROM PAGE 1...

Indonesians

engineering at MIT, Cambridge.

—Dr. John A. Lewellyn, 34, born Cardiff, Wales, United Kingdom. Presently an associate professor of chemistry at Florida State University in Tallahassee.

—Dr. Franklin S. Musgrave, 31, born Boston, Mass. Presently a physician studying as a post-doctoral fellow at the University of Kentucky in Lexington; with a medical degree from Columbia University and a Ph.D. in physiology from the University of Kentucky.

—Dr. Brian T. O'Leary, 27, born Boston, Mass. Presently studying in a NASA training program at the space sciences laboratory in the University of California's department of astronomy at Berkeley, Calif.

—Dr. Robert A. Parker, 30, born New York City. Presently professor of astronomy at the University of Wisconsin Madison on campus.

—Dr. William E. Thornton, 38, born Goldsboro, N.C. Presently a consultant to Delmar Engineering Co., in Los Angeles. Until June he was an Air Force flight surgeon at Brooks Air Force Base in San Antonio, Tex.

FROM PAGE 1...

Indonesians

engineering at MIT, Cambridge.

—Dr. John A. Lewellyn, 34, born Cardiff, Wales, United Kingdom. Presently an associate professor of chemistry at Florida State University in Tallahassee.

—Dr. Franklin S. Musgrave, 31, born Boston, Mass. Presently a physician studying as a post-doctoral fellow at the University of Kentucky in Lexington; with a medical degree from Columbia University and a Ph.D. in physiology from the University of Kentucky.

—Dr. Brian T. O'Leary, 27, born Boston, Mass. Presently studying in a NASA training program at the space sciences laboratory in the University of California's department of astronomy at Berkeley, Calif.

—Dr. Robert A. Parker, 30, born New York City. Presently professor of astronomy at the University of Wisconsin Madison on campus.

—Dr. William E. Thornton, 38, born Goldsboro, N.C. Presently a consultant to Delmar Engineering Co., in Los Angeles. Until June he was an Air Force flight surgeon at Brooks Air Force Base in San Antonio, Tex.

FROM PAGE 1...

Indonesians

engineering at MIT, Cambridge.

—Dr. John A. Lewellyn, 34, born Cardiff, Wales, United Kingdom. Presently an associate professor of chemistry at Florida State University in Tallahassee.