SCIENTIFICALLY and literally speaking, the saying "He's so empty-headed everything I say goes in one ear and out the other" just won't work. Anything truly "empty" contains "nothing," and sound waves, simply alternate compression and rarefaction of air, won't travel through a perfect vacuum.

Market Report

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Stocks Drop As Good War News is Heard

New York—(AP)—The stock market today stumbled over the good war news and, while casualties generally were not severe and selling far from urgent, the averages recorded their first decline in seven successive sessions.

Reconversion doubts revived as a buying handicap when the Tokyo cabinet crisis brought out a new premier and Moscow denounced the Russian-Japanese neutrality treaty. Individual stocks were propped to some extent by earnings and dividend prospects.

Volume was around 700,000 shares. Near closing losses ranged from fractions to more than a point.

Bonds were relatively steady. At Chicago wheat was up ¼ to off 1 cent a bushel, corn off ½ to ⅞, oats ⅝ to 1⅛ and rye 1 to 2. Cotton, toward the finish, was unchanged to 5 cents a bale lower.
