Mighty New Ally, Winter, Moving Southward to Aid Russian Armies

Out of northern Russia a new ally—winter, the giant of the steppes—is moving its mighty weight southward to the aid of the red armies which are battling to close the great Dnieper-bend trap on Hitler's retreating forces. The fierce cold and snow, which smashed Napoleon with one stroke, already have had two goes at Hitler. This bids fair to be the third and last.

The mouth of the Dnieper-bend trap, which opens westward towards the fatherland and temporary safety (or does security lie that way?), is between the strategic rail center of Krivoi Rog on the north and the estuary of the river at the Black sea. That gate is about ninety miles wide. Affords Only Escape

This ninety mile stretch affords the only escape for the large German forces which remains inside the trap. Many troops already have been moved through the opening, although thousands have been killed or captured by the pursuing reds, and vast quantities of Nazi war materiel have been abandoned. Today's news from Moscow claims 2,700,000 Nazi casualties during the four months' offensive, and of these 900,000 are killed.

A complete breakdown and debacle of the German forces could grow out of the present position. However, the final returns aren't yet in. Despite the terrible losses they already have suffered, and still are bound to have, they may be able to fall back to fresh positions for another stand. Not Properly Prepared

SHOW GOES ON DESPITE DEATH

Hollywood—(AP)—Comedian Lou Costello's return to radio after nearly eight months' absence induced by illness was no festive occasion for the chunky little funny man with the high-pitched voice. "Butch"—Lou Costello jr.—was dead. Infant Son Drowns

The actor's infant son drowned in the swimming pool at the Costello estate in nearby Van Nuys a few hours before the broadcast. But Costello, following the troupe's tradition that the audience must not know what twists in his heart while the show goes on, insisted upon making the scheduled appearance last night despite the tragedy.

Lou quipped and squealed as usual with Partner Bud Abbott. Comedian Mickey Rooney stood by, lest Costello falter, but the veteran met every cue. There were tears in his eyes when, after the half-hour broadcast, he was led to his car by his physician, Dr. Victor Kovenor, who had advised him to forego the ordeal of making the radio appearance.

Costello was rehearsing at NBC yesterday afternoon when informed that his son, who would have been a year old Saturday, had crept from a playpen and fallen into the pool. Had Just Recovered

Costello only recently recovered from a long illness with rheumatic fever. He and his wife, Ann, have two daughters, Carol Lou, 5, and Patricia Ann, 7. They have been married 13 years. At the conclusion of the broadcast Abbott told the radio audience of the tragedy.

Stars Record Program For Yanks Overseas Hollywood—(AP)—A million dollars worth of entertainment will assemble Saturday night to sing carols and tell yuletide jokes to every American boy in service overseas. The Hollywood victory committee said today the hour-long program will be recorded and distributed by the war department to be broadcast on camp loudspeakers, short wave or local radio stations wherever American troops are on Christmas day. It will not be broadcast Saturday.

Participants will include Judy Garland, Ginny Simms, Fred Allen, Dinah Shore, Frances Langford, Bob Hope, Kay Kyser, Jimmy Durante, Nelson Eddy and Amos and Andy.

OUR MEN IN SERVICE

Pvt. Carl Zeman has moved from Miami Beach, Fla., to Keesler field, Miss., having been accepted as a flying cadet. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Zeman, city.

Second Lieutenant Chester Van Ruth, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Ruth, Nekooa, received his commission a week ago upon graduation from an officer candidate school in Australia. Lieut. Van Ruth, who was formerly a sergeant, has four brothers in the service: Staff Sgt. Donald, and Tech. Cpl. Leonard, Australia, Cpl. Arthur, Alaska, and Pvt. Wilfred, stationed in Tennessee.

Cpl. Robert Kitrush, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kitrush of Nekooa travelled recently through England, according to a letter received by his mother. Cpl. Kitrush, who entered the service in January, 1943, was previously stationed in northern Ireland.

Pvt. Harland A. Spry, son of Mrs. Bessie Spry of Nekooa, has begun training as an airplane mechanic at the army air forces school at Gulfport, field, Miss. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zellner of this city have received word from their son, Peter jr., that he has arrived in San Diego, Cal., to begin training as a marine. Pvt. Zellner left here October 25 to be inducted into the marine corps.

Swiss Figures On Bombing of Reich Stockholm—(AP)—Swiss dispatches gave these figures today on allied bombings of Germany: There are now 8,000,000 bomb victims homeless in Germany; 152,000 persons have been killed in Hamburg bombings and 42,000 in attacks on Kassel; 3,000 were killed and 12,000 made homeless by the RAF attack Wednesday night on Duesseldorf.

How the figures were obtained was not explained in the dispatches to Swedish newspapers. By mid-December—say six weeks from now—the Dnieper will be frozen in the Kiev region. Christmas will see ice at Kremenchug, and within the first few days of January—two months hence—the great river will be frozen clear down to Kherson. Haven't Much Time

With the freezing, the red armies will be able to unleash fresh striking-power and speed. And six or eight weeks don't allow much time for the harassed German armies to pull themselves out of the trap and retire to new positions. Right now the Nazis are up to their necks in evacuating troops from the trap. This means they must hold the gateway open between Krivoi Rog and Nikolayev on the Bug river, not far from the mouth of the Dnieper. That's a bloody job, and may be largely love's labor lost.

While all this is going on in the extreme south I think we should do well to keep a weather eye on sectors further north. Fresh trouble seems to be boiling up for the Germans in the Kiev sector. And above there on the Smolensk front the invaders face the danger of a further offensive which might cut through their line and hew a road clear into the Baltic states and East Russia.

YOU CAN'T BUY ASPIRIN that can do more for you than St. Joseph Aspirin. Why pay more? World's largest seller at 10c. Demand St. Joseph Aspirin.

Turn you down? PERHAPS Let you down? NEVER!

WE'D RATHER lose a sale than lose a customer—rather say "Sorry we don't have it," than sell you something that might "let you down." We have welcomed some of the wartime developments in men's clothes and accessories because they conserve materials without sacrificing comfort, appearance or wear. But if and when our tests and experience prove that any change or substitution will result in dissatisfaction, we won't offer it.

SCHNABEL'S BETTER CLOTHING

Serviceman Praises Our Center Here Highly—Reminds Him of Home

If you have walked past the recently-opened Servicemen's center in St. John's parish house one of these evenings, and glanced into one of its cheerily-lighted windows, it will be no news to you that the center is a pronounced success with the servicemen stationed in this vicinity. More evidence of that success is contained in recent letters received from servicemen who have enjoyed the hospitality of the center, and then moved on to camps in other localities.

From a Camp Williams soldier comes one letter in particular that is worth quoting in its entirety: "Dear Ladies (of the Red Cross Canteen corps), I have just been shipped out from Wisconsin Rapids, and I want to thank you for all you did to make my stay there a pleasant one.

"I believe I speak for all the men at the camp when I say that Wisconsin Rapids is one of the best towns we have ever visited. One of the greatest factors that makes the town a success to us is your Servicemen's center. We look upon it as a well place to spend our leisure hours. Thanks to your untiring efforts and unselfish sacrifices, you have brought joy into the lives of the service men. "I think the most attractive features of the center are: the young hostesses available for dancing, talking, and playing games; the cookies and fruit available at all times and the light snack before returning to camp; the writing room and free stationery; the books and magazines in the reading room; and the use of cards, ping pong tables, and all the other games.

Called From Their Homes "We men in the service of the country have all been snatched away from our roles in civilian life. We didn't want to fight, but we had to answer the call from our country. Now we are doing our best to win the war in the shortest possible time. We are making the effort so that we can return to our normal lives as civilians. "Our lives aren't too unpleasant, but at best, it is a poor substitute for the kind of life we would have at home. Then, we run across a place like your Servicemen's center, and it reminds us of home. That is the greatest compliment a soldier can make—it reminds him of home. "Thank you very much for all you have done for me and the other soldiers you treated so wonderfully. Keep up your good work; you will never know how much it means to us."

Gratifying to Sponsors There is an expression of sentiment which should reassure the Canteen corps members, who are doing such commendable work in operating the center and serving refreshments, the painters who donating their labor in redecorating the parish house, and all those who made contributions of equipment, supplies and services to the center, that their efforts are really appreciated by the men for whom the project was established. "Your hospitality is much warmer than your climate," writes another soldier, from Camp Douglas, at Tomah. Of course this compliment is somewhat doubtful, since the climate is rather on the cold side, but it is safe to assume that this was another expression of heartfelt gratitude for the thoughtfulness of those citizens of this community who have made, and are making this center possible.

Believe Finnish Peace With Russia Imminent

Stockholm—(AP)—The newspaper Social Demokraten said today the Finnish government had instructed Juhani Paasikivi, former minister to Russia, to be ready to go to Moscow—presumably to discuss negotiations for a separate peace. Paasikivi played an important part in the negotiations which brought an end to the Finnish-Russian war of 1939-40. "Finland's fate will be settled within a few days," the Social Demokraten declared. There was no official confirmation of the report with regard to Paasikivi either in Helsinki or Stockholm. The best information available from the Finnish capital, however, was that a new intensive effort to get Finland out of the war as a partner of Germany was under way.
